

CENTER COUNTER

TAULBUT

INTERESTING.

BUT IS IT SOUND?

AC
News
2

USEFUL

ADDRESSES!

MAKE use of this feature; please mention ACN when corresponding with any of the below named and don't forget an SAE, OK ?

English Deaf Chess Association : PK Gardner, 98 Belvedere Rd., Bexley Heath, Kent.

Braille Chess Association : J Horrocks, 59 Sefton St., Putney, London SW15 .

BCF Congress Director : S Reuben, 11 Haversham Close, Twickenham, TW1 2JP (01 892 6660)

Editor of Correspondence Chess : AN Morris, 69 Ring Road , Knighton, Leicester.

West of England Championship Organiser : AC Brown, 10 Cavendish Road, Henleaze, Bristol (B 623473)

Southern Counties Championship Organiser : FC Manning, 44 Willow Road, Wallington, Surrey (01 647 0063)

Editor of 'Newsflash' : P Buswell, 9a Grand Parade, St Leonards on Sea, Sussex (0424-442500)

For Chess Videos, 'Simuls Instructive' and A/C Clinic : M Basman, 7 Billockby Close, Chessington, Surrey (01 397 1826)

BCF Assistant Coach : PA Lamford, 9 Goodenough Road, London SW19 3QW (01 486 8484 Ext 53)

NEXT ISSUE : St George's Tapes Reviewed , More of Your Letters, The English Defence by J Green, 'More Swindles' by David Cooper , Some KJ Thurlow Gems , MJB writes for ACN ; and much more .!

The End

Editor-in-Chief : Mike Basman

Production Editor : James Pratt

Hello. Purchasers of the Christmas issue of 'Chess' will have seen ACN advertised as ' Audio Chess Mini Books '. This was a provisional name that we have now jettisoned. Julian Way of Esher will shortly be starting an occasional series, 'Junior Games' and so if you are under eighteen and have played a snappy game with an Audio line why not add a few comments and send it in ?

ACN offers a pocket set for the most amusingly/originally annotated game won by a player graded Under 130. Off-beat openings preferred . Write to ACN Comp, 'Glynde', Colt Hill, Odiham, Hants. Entries to be received by 1st April, 1982. Usual competition rules apply.

Do you have a Video Recorder ? A Video review is a-coming your way !

Finally, congrats to IM H.J. Plaskett on winning the Hastings Challengers. Jim now qualifies for the 1982/83 Premier.

Michael Basman

James Pratt

*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*

Audio Chess News is £ 3.50 for 6 issues or 60p for a single issue (stamps accepted). Advertising rates on request. Write to : Audio Chess, 7 Billockby Close, Chessington, Surrey KT9 2ED (01 397 1826)

*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*

G M

RANDBMASTER

IND II

By

James Pratt

Well, how did you get on in our last quiz ??

And what about our idea of making one up yourself ? Please send us in your efforts for publication.

Firstly, six anagrams and then some more general questions :

- 1 Ocl Atroj Ships
- 2 Pam Rurnoba
- 3 Harls Fool
- 4 Keetrl Caper
- 5 Hahexn Dug Real
- 6 Rrr Yelum Ahcand
- 7 Who recorded the Audio Chess Cassette " Bashing the Benko"?
- 8 Who won the 1972 British Championship ?
- 9 Which GM was born in 1882 and died in 1961 ?
- 10 Name the opening 1 g4
- 11 Who won the 1st Lewisham International ?
- 12 Can 8 Queens stand on the same board without any of them attacking each other ?
- 13 Which of the following is not a GM : Jansa, Bellon, Denker, Kraidman, Suba or Dolmatov ?
- 14 What do the initials 'TN' stand for ?

Answers in Issue No 3

Express Yourself !! Write to Audio Chess News, today !!

So 1 e4 e5 2 f4 ef: 3 Qe2 d5 will be the first line that we will discuss in " Wierdo Corner " in ACN No 3. We invite your comments and games in this line. After all, the ideas are all there waiting to be refuted.

SOLID

GAMES

Games without notes and diagrams ? Can this be popular ? Well, we rather doubt it but will try anything once. Shall we repeat this idea ??

W : HJ Plaskett B : K Beedle (Hammersmith Simul, 1978)

1 e4 c5 2 Nf3 e6 3 d4 cd: 4 Nd4: Bc5 5 Nb3 Bb6 6 Bd3 Ne7 7 Qe2 00 8 Nc3 f5 9 Be3 fe:?! 10 Be4:
d5 11 Bb6: Qb6: 12 Bd3: Nbc6 13 00 e5 14 Bb5 Qc7
15 Rae1 Be6 16 Nc5 Bf7 17 f4 Nd4 18 Qe5: Qc5:
19 Qe7: Ne2+ 20 Kh1 Qe7: 0-1

W : MA Johnstone B: MJ Basman (Popley Simul, 1980)

1 d4 h6 2 Nf3 d6 3 b3 Nf6 4 Bb2 Bg4 5 Nbd2 d5
6 e3 e6 7 Bd3 Bf5 8 Bf5: ef: 9 Ne5?! g6 10 00
Bg7 11 Ba3 Nbd7 12 Nd7: Qd7: 13 c4 000 14 Qc2 Kb8
15 Rfc1 Rc8 16 c5 c6 17 b4 Rhe8 18 Rab1 Re6 19
Rb3 Rce8 20 Rcb1 a6 21 Bc1 f4 22 Nf1 Ng4 23 a4 fe: 24 Be3: Ne3: 25 fe: R8e7 26 b5 cb: 27 ab: ab:
28 Rb5: Qc8 29 Qa2 ! Re3: 30 Ne3: Bd4: 31 Qd5:
Be3:+ 32 Kh1 1-0. The doubled rooks decide

BECOME FAMOUS : HAVE A GAME PUBLISHED IN ACN .

24 b4. A line : 23 b4 Bf5+ 24 Kd1 Na4 25 Rb8+ Ke7
 26 Bb5 Bb1: 27 Ba4: Bd3 28 b5 f1(Q)+ 30 Rf1: Bf1: 31 b6. Now back to the game 23 Nd2 Sheer rubbish, this stops .. Bf3 but blots out the bishop on c1. Black tramps through 23 .. Rg8! 24 Rb8+ Ke7 25 b4 (Too late) Bf5+ 26
Kb2 Nd3+ 27 Bd3: Bd3: 28 Rb7 Kd8 29 Nf3 Rb7: 30 cb: Kc7 31 0-1 Sadistically artistic, as would be expected from Brian Eley.

Theoretically, therefore, there was not much theory in that game. Had I played 6 d4 instead of 6 Nf3 I would have stood a good chance. For example : 6 d4 Qe7? 7 Bf4: Nf6. The attack on the e pawn is easily parried by 8 Nd2 and white has retained his pawn. On the other hand , after 6 d4 if black plays 6 .. g5 7 Nf3 forces the black queen to a less effective square than e7. For example : 7 .. Qh4, to which white might consider 8 Qb5 (Δ Qg5, Δ Be2, Δ(?)d5) .

Another try for black might be , after 6 d4 Bg4 7 Nf3 Qf6
 (to hold the f pawn) when white could play the insidious 8
 Qf2 (8 .. 000 9 d5 Ne5 10 Qa7: Nf3: 11 gf: Bf3:+ 12 Kd2 Bh1:? 13 Bh3+ gulp..) 8 .. Nge7 9 Bb5. White has his centre and seems to be developing soundly, whereas black's pieces are finding deployment awkward.

Now we'll leave the check at h4 and turn to 3 .. d5 . By the way, you may be asking why white played 3 Qe2 instead of 3 Qf3 (The Breyer Variation, a favourite of Capablanca's)
 On f3 white's queen blocks the knight from its natural square.
 I think I was under the mistaken impression that 3 Qe2 stopped
 .. d5 until Tal pointed it out (What's he doing here ?)

AUDIO

MAIL

BAG

.....

! Dear Mr Basman.

Mr Donald White writes from his Somerset home :

" I much prefer working from books. I already have the major Monographs on the openings in which I am interested and so shall not be joining your library service. I am therefore returning the cassettes and leaflets herewith. "

" Audio Chess is, I think , an interesting idea, but rather for the 'rabbit' - I'm not currently a player, but am planning a comeback after thirty years away from the game, having once been a County/London League Board 1 player, so am rather beyond the stage of the cassettes although I found the 4 .. Bc5 variation of the Sicilian interesting.
 Incidentally, quite apart from this point, I thought this tape much better than the French Winawer tapes."

" Thank you again for the trial run - I hope the venture succeeds - there should be an adequate market for it."

Mr Graeme Fyfe sent the following letter from Monifieth :

" Please may I hire your cassette on the Veresov Opening ?
 I am really glad to see a tape on this opening, as I find Jimmy Adams' expensive book on the Veresov totally useless;
 it is crammed with games but not one word of written English to explain the ideas behind the opening. My sincere thanks again. "

We were delighted to hear from Mr David Ducharme :

" Please send St George's Opening at £10.50. I have not been this excited about a defence for eight years. I have not lost with this defence yet and haven't even taken time to analyse it in detail. Even the new portable chess computers can't handle this one, falling in as little as 17 moves. "

Mr Gordon Witt wrote from London, NW14 :

I return the Alekhine cassettes and found the presentation and delivery excellent. I particularly liked the firm note in Mr Neat's voice when he suggested I switched off and analyse. I find the new lists of titles very tempting. I have lost a pawn on my pocket chess set and think I will take up gambits until I find it. Thanks for the suggestion about chess lessons by cassette. "

From Keptie Road in Arbroath we heard :

" Many thanks for sending me the three tapes I ordered. I am much interested in ' Audio Chess '. Although less exhaustive than books it is much easier to get the 'feel' of the game and an understanding of the opening. You have certainly made a new convert ! "

Clydebank's Mr AJ McClelland writes:

" I found my first A/C Cassette extremely interesting. The idea of encouraging the listener's own analysis rather than giving a multitude of variations to be learned by heart is certainly promising - I've always believed that it is more important to know the ideas behind an opening than to memorize variations."

White cannot play 12 Bb5: because fg: destroys him.

12 Qd4 ! fg: 13 Bg2: Bg4 +
14 Kc2 f3 15 Bf1 Nf6

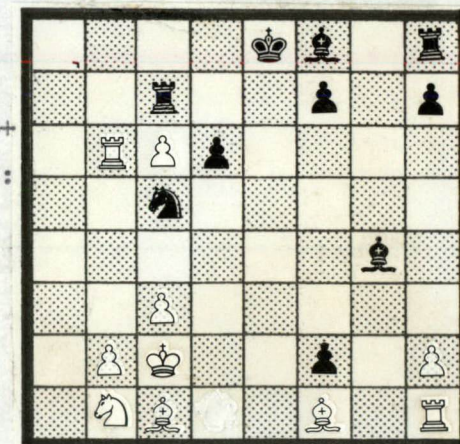

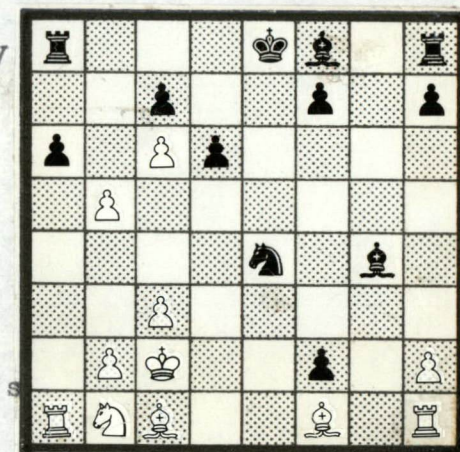

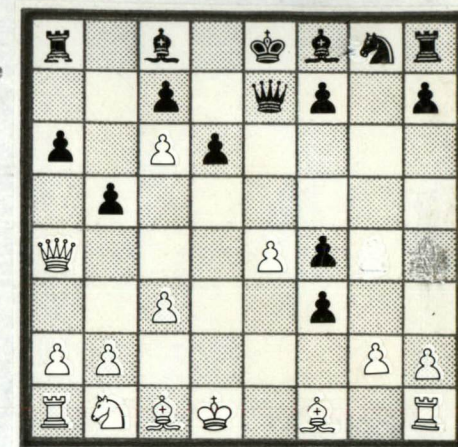

This blocks the attack against the rook and hits white's e pawn - that was black's threat ten moves back. Once again white has to stir up trouble.

16 a4 ! Qe4:+ 17 Qe4:+ Ne4: . Into the endgame with Eley a few pawns ahead. But, now his queenside crumbles

18 ab: f2 (see diagram ↗→)

Both sides are playing an entirely different game. Black threatens 19 .. Bf3. Of course, white ignores this. 19 Ra6: ! Rb8 20 b6! Nc5! 21 bc: Rc8 22 Rb6 Rc7: . About this time I had not blundered for about 15 moves, quite a long time (for me). White's next seals his doom in this crazy position (see bottom diagram ↗→)

White should have played 23 .b4 (23 .. Bf3 24 bc: Bh1: 25 Rb8+ Ke7 26 cd:+ Kd6: 27 Rf8: Rf8: 28 Ba3+ Kc6: 29 Bf8:) or possibly first 23 Rb8+ and then

Now let's look at black's possible defences :

If 3 .. Nc6 then 4 c3 keeps the knight out and prepares d4. Black can also play 3 .. g5, but this would be a positional blunder because 4 h4 breaks up the pawn chain. The main attempts at refutation, then, are 3 .. Qh4 + and 3 .. d5.

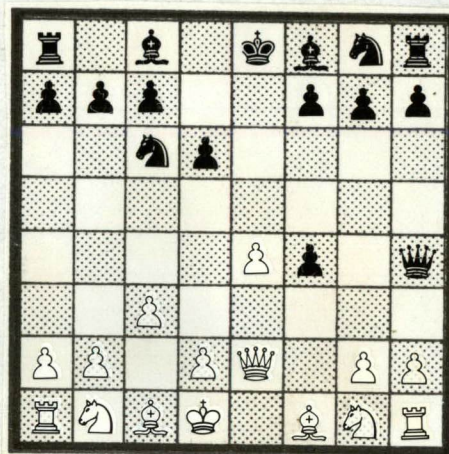

We'll study the check first.

3 .. Qh4 + 4 Kd1 Nc6 5 c3 d6

This position (see diagram) arose in the first TV Game : Basman v Eley, 1973 (this game was filmed but was never shown; it was the precursor of that popular series "The Master Game", produced by Bob Toner)

Now back to the game and white's first mistake : 6 Nf3 ? Qe7

Sad. I now realised that black is going to launch a counter-attack against my e pawn, and I should have played 6 d4 first, delaying Nf3 until the next move. Eley had tricked me ! Furious at ruining a promising opening, I had to continue : 7 d4 g5 ! 8 Qb5 ! Might as well throw in the kitchen sink. White begins to cause trouble. This queen sortie attacks the g pawn and threatens d5. 8 .. g4 9 d5 a6 10 Qa4 Non-stop carnage. White is ready to answer 10 .. b5 by 11 Bb5 : 10 .. gf: 11 dc: b5 ! (There should be a diagram here, but its over the page. Study it hard.)

MMAGAZINE REWIEW

by James Pratt

" The Myers Openings Bulletin " . Algebraic Notation. 20 pages. Published 8 or 9 times a year . Available from : Hugh E Myers of 1506 $\frac{1}{2}$ Harrison, Davenport, Iowa 52803-4808, USA. 25.75 US Dollars for 12 issues.

The MOB is a magazine about openings, mostly off-beat and unusual ones and published and edited by Hugh Myers. Mr Myers is an accomplished author and we will have more about his books in a future issue. Book, magazine and the occasional tournament report also feature.

Who is Myers ? At the moment he is concentrating on the MOB , but he is about 190 strength and is more of a giant-killer than most players of below master strength. He is a master of teaching and also something of a chess philosopher.

He has assembled a band of writers- not all well known names but a band you will grow to respect including : Gerald Welling, Frank Skoff, Michael MacDonald-Ross, René Olthof, Allan Savage and the Wisest Fool in Chessington, M Basman. A future issue will have a commentary on the World Championship (by Lev Alburt) and a report on micro-computers.

To give you more idea of its contents here is what featured in the latest issues Nos 18 and 19 : Owen's, Alekhine's, King's Gambit, 1 .. g5 , Yes, it's varied. What relevance does the MOB have to Audio users ?

The approach is the same but I can see no duplication at all; in fact, they complement each other very well.

The MOB is also available from Audio Chess at a slightly cheaper rate than from the US (details on request) but you can obtain it more quickly direct from Myers himself.

Two final points :

If you are a good writer about the openings and are looking for an outlet for your work then the MOB might provide it. Also, if you are interested in chess history then Myers would be worth listening to even if you play nothing more unusual than 1 .. g6 .

Why not join the MOB mob ?

@"/@

From the depths of Devonshire " Audio Chess News" presents :

MY AUDIO CHESS OPENING GAMES FROM MORECAMBE 1981 .

by Chris Archer-Lock

Chris finished seventh equal in a very strong British U-18's and also won the Week Two Evening Special . He writes :

" I scored 6½/11 which I was pleased with, but 2 of my games were with 1 b3 and the Gurgendidze System. Even so, I had some interesting games and good results with Audio Chess Systems. "

W : ACL Dyson B : CJ Archer-Lock From Round One

1 d4 e6 2 Nf3 b6 (I had prepared to play Owen's Def and transposition to it appeared inevitable. I got a good position, which took a lot of time getting, but was shown

WIERDO KORNER

by Michael Basman

ACN now presents " The Opening That Never Won a Tournament Game."

Some years ago I discovered a crushing line in the King's Gambit " (which) is mentioned in the preliminary schedule of the opening in Bilguer's Handbook " (Golombek in BCM) but, inexplicably, I lost four times with it. Still, there might be others willing to resurrect this line :

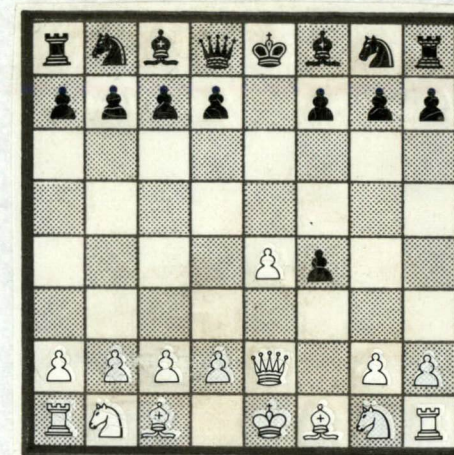

1 e4 e5 2 f4 ef: 3 Qe2

The subtlety of this move lies in the allocation of the square d1 for the white king. After white's blunder at move 2, he is faced with the threat of 3..Qh4+ Now it's no use playing 3 Nf3 because black just sets up a pawn chain with 3 .. g5 and if white tries to break up the chain with 4 h4, then .. g4 hits the knight at f3.

The problem is that the knight at f3 is exposed - a common difficulty which affects people who develop their pieces.

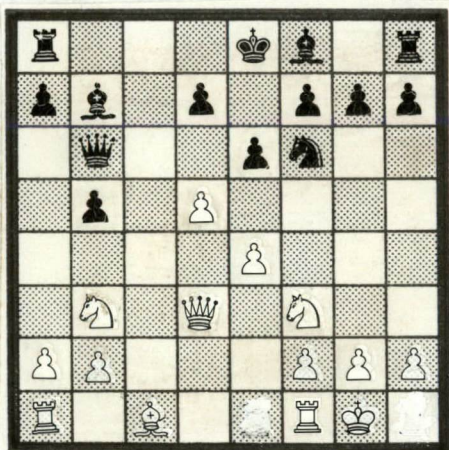

3 Bc4 allows the white king to go to f1 if black checks at h4. But surely white wants a rook not a king on this square ?

SO : 3 Qe2 is therefore the answer, for it commits none of white's pieces, reserves the option of playing c3 and d4 and provides a haven for the white king should black check early on.

superior pawn structure, even though black has a well centralised knight as a counter-weight .

In the diagram position (after 7 .. cd: 8 cd: Nbc6 9 Nb3 Nb4 10 d5 Nd3: 11 Qd3:) there were also a couple of other lines for black where he avoided the pawn win in the centre, but was satisfied with the gain made already (the exchange of white's bishop for his knight). Black's problem in this position is that he is threatened by the tempo-gaining 12 Be3 followed by the invasion along the c file and on c5. So black must make some room for his queen.

One possible line was : 11 .. b4 12 Be3 Ba6!? 13 Qc2 Qb7 14 Rfc1 ed: 15 ed: Qd5: 16 Re1 Bd3 17 Bc5+ Ne4 with hairy play, but you can see that black is consistently filling up the white squares in the centre, now that he has removed the bishop at d3.

Another line from the previous diagram is : 11 .. b4 12 Be3 Qa6 13 Qd4 ed: 14 ed: Bd5: 15 Bg5 Be6! (Once again using this piece to block the e file.) when after 16 Bf6: gf: 17 Qf6: Rg8 white has got his pawn back but could be in deeper water than black.

up later.) 3 e4 Bb7 4 Bd3 c5 5 c3 Nf6 6 Qe2 Be7 7 a3 h6 8 00 Qc7 9 Re1 Nc6 10 Nbd2 g5 11 h3 Rg8 12 Nf1 Na5 13 d5 c4 14 Bc2 g4 15 hg: Ng4: 16 Ne3 000 17 Rb1

17 .. Ne3: 18 Qe3: Bc5 19 Qf4 (Stops .. Qg3) Qf4: 20 Bf4: ed: 21 ed: Bd5: (Here I must stand quite well, but I soon go wrong.) 22 Be4 Be4: 23 Re4: f5 ? 24 Re5 Re8 25 Rbe1 Re5: 26 Re5: Bd6 27 Rf5: Bf4: 28 Rf4: Re8 29 Kf1 b5 30 Nd4 Re5 31 Rf6 h5 32 f4 Rd5

33 Ke2 Nb3 34 Ke3 Nd4: 35 Ke4 !. Rf5 36 Rf5: Nf5: 37 Kf5: a5 38 Kg6 d5 39 f5 d4 40 f6 d3 (The time control. Looking at the position made me wonder why I bothered getting there !) 1-0

MJB writes :

" Why not 2 .. b5 (Polish ?) Ed Formanek v Ian Wells, Benedictine Masters, 1981 (Available in bulletins from Audio Chess) showed an interesting black method with 2 .. b6, where black delayed .. Nf6 to take the sting out of the e5 break. Either on move 8 of 9 white could have played e5 (.. Nd5? 9 c4 Nc7 10 and black's knight does not look well placed)

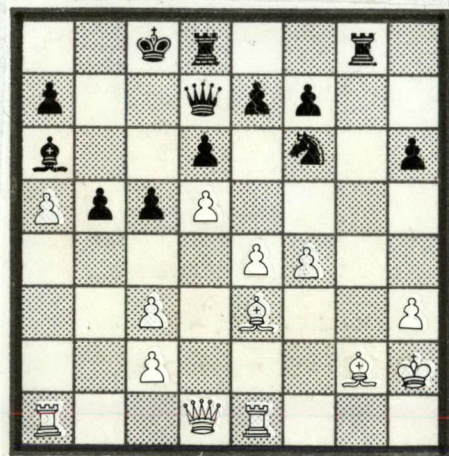

W : SJ Roe

B : CJ Archer-Lock (Rd 3)

1 Nf3 (This is a game I felt I played well, except that I failed to find how to finish it, and let the advantage go at the end.)

1 .. b6 2 g3 Bb7 3 Bg2 g5
4 h3 Bg7 5 00 h6 6 d4
d6 7 Nc3 c5 8 e4 Nc6
9 Be3 Qd7 10 d5 (This did not seem necessary, since black would like the diagonal opened.) 10 .. Ne5
11 Ne5: Be5: 12 a4 Nf6
13 a5 Ba6 14 Re1 b5
15 f4 gf: 16 gf: Bc3:
17 bc: Rg8 18 Kh2 000

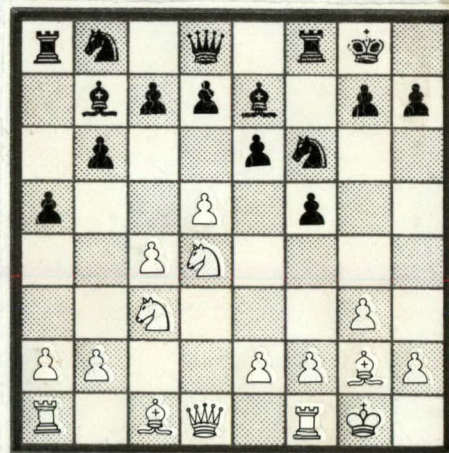

19 Qf3 e6 20 de: fe:
21 e5 Nd5 22 Rad1 Bb7 23 Bh1 (Now white just about seemed to be alive,

but I should have played Rdf8, after which he seems almost defenceless. In this variation I get a much better rook ending. Instead,
I took the pressure off,
having missed this.) 23 ..
Ne3: 24 Qb7:+ Qb7: 25
Bb7:+ Kb7: 26 Re3: $\frac{1}{2}$
ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*ACN*

W : M Kerridge

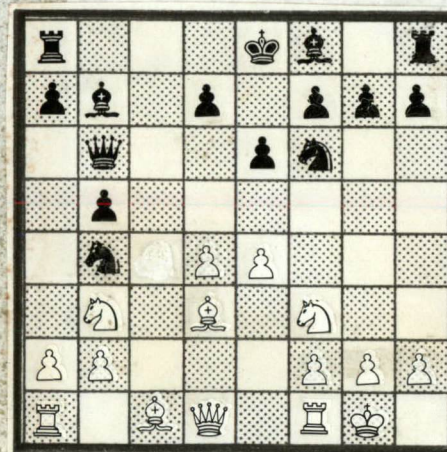

B : CJ Archer-Lock (Rd 11)

1 c4 b6 2 Nc3 e6 3 Nf3
Bb7 4 g3 f5 5 Bg2 Nf6
6 00 Be7 7 d4 00 8 d5
a5 9 Nd4

9 .. Bc5 10 Bf4 Na6 11

8 .. Qc5: 9 Nb3 Qh5 !
10 h3 h6. This should also be OK for black.
(ii) 7 .. cd: 8 cd: Nbc6.
The disadvantage of this move is that white can now guard his d pawn by 9 Nb3 (Which was impossible after 7 ..
Nbc6 because 8 .. c4 nets a piece) So white plays 9 Nb3 Nb4 ! This move unleashes a double attack on the pawn at e4 and the bishop at d3 is also threatened. It seems white must give something up
- either the two bishops or a pawn.

10 d5 ! - white chooses to do both and opens up lines against the black king nestling in the centre. And this, as we know, can easily outweigh a pawn or two or a small positional advantage such as bishop v knight.

In our analysis we (MJB, GW, & RO) reached the position after 10 .. Nd3: 11 Qd3:
ed: 12 ed: and were unable to demonstrate an advantage for white after 12 .. Bd5:
13 Be3 Qb8 14 Re1 Be6
15 Nfd4 Be7 16 Nb5: 00.

The move 12 .. Nd5: looked less good, as black would like to have the resource .. Be6 blocking the e file, as in the last variation. So after 12
.. Nd5: 13 Be3 Qg6! (Not 13 .. Ne3: ? 14 Re1!) 14
Qb5: Bc6 15 Qe2 Be7 16
Nd4 00 17 Nc6: bc: seems to leave white with a slightly

NOTES ON THE POLISH DEFENCE

by Michael Basman

On the cassette 'Polish' the question was asked: "Is there any advantage to black to be gained by avoiding the move .. a6 to defend the b pawn. The position reached after 1 d4 b5 2 e4 Bb7 3 Nd2 Nf6 4 Bd3 e6 5 Ngf3 c5 6 c3 Qb6 7 00 was examined on the tape and subsequently at a tournament in Liege in Belgium last August by Welling, Basman and Olthof.

Black's queen now guards the b pawn and he tries to put pressure on both white's central pawns. He has two continuations. The first is by 7 .. Nbc6, when the attack on the white d pawn forces white to play 8 dc:, and the second continuation is 7 .. cd: 8 cd: Nc6 when black strikes against a sitting target.

(i) 7 .. Nbc6 8 dc: and now 8 .. Bc5: 9 Nb3 Be7 10 Be3 Qc7; here if white plays 11 Bb5: black can answer 11 .. Ne4:. On the other hand if white plays 11 Nc5 black keeps equality by 11 .. Ne5! 12 Nb7: Nd3: - a bishop for a bishop: a roland for an Olivier Newton John.

After 7 .. Nbc6 8 dc: black can recapture with the queen and then shift her over to the kingside.

Qd2 Ng4 12 Bg5 Qe8
13 h3 Ne5 14 b3 Ng6
15 de: Bg2: 16 Kg2: de:
17 Nf3 h6 18 Be3 Rad8
19 Qc1 Qc6 20 Bc5: Nc5:
21 Qc2 Ne5 22 Rad1 Nf3:
23 ef: Rd7 24 Rd7: Qd7:
25 Rd1 Qe7 26 Qd2 Qg5
27 Qd4 Rf7 28 Qe5 Qf6
29 Qf6: gf: $\frac{11}{22}$. MJB writes

"Black's defence is interesting as after move 9 white is threatening 10 de: and winning the pawn at e6; and black cannot play ed: because of 10 Nf5:.. After 9 .. Bc5 black is prepared to play 10 de: Bg2: 11 Kg2: Bd4: 12 Qd4: Nc6 13 Qd3 de: when it is not clear that white's bishop outweighs black's good development and central control. "

+)+)+)+)+)+)+)+)+)+)+)+)+)+)+)

AND NOW HERE ARE THE Answers to last issue's Grandmaster Mind :

1 Duncan Suttles 2 Nigel Short 3 Jim Plaskett 4 Hugh Myers 5 David Goodman 6 Mark Hebden 7 Paul Keres 8 Paul Charles 9 Andrew Martin 10 Tony Miles 11 Mir Sultan Khan 12 1973 13 Otto Hardy 14 1975 15 Jonathan Penrose

THE PROLIFIC DOZEN :

As promised last issue we list the SCCU (Sorry, no info on other unions; has any reader?) players graded over 180 who played over 100 games last season :
1st JG Gallagher 133; 2nd AD Martin 131; 3rd SC Conquest 126; 4th RS Bellin 123; 5th JJ Ady 120; 6th Miss SA Jackson 114; 7th BA Jacobs 111; 8th BL Baer 108; 9th MJ

Franklin & T Farrand 107;
11th= GW Lane 106; 12th JM
Emms 102.

We conclude the miscellany with a win by Chris Baker from a 1979 Quickplay at Basingstoke :

W : EW Engert

B : GW Baker

Queen's Bishop Attack !

1 d4 Nf6 2 Bg5 c5 3
c3 Qb6 4 Qc2 cd: 5 cd:
Nc6 6 e3 Nb4 7 Qe2 Qa5
8 Qd2 Ne4 9 Qd1 Nc2+
10 Ke2 Na1: 11 Bf4 Qa2:
12 f3 Qb2:+ 13 Kd3 Qb5+
14 Ke4: f5 mate.

My Greatest Conquest Yet

by David Cooper

Audio Chess has triumphed
again with the 5 .. gf:

Caro-Kann. I have score $4\frac{1}{2}/5$ including a grading upset of 40 points. So much for its drawish reputation !

W : GW Lawton (200)

B : DM Cooper (160)

The New Caro

Played in the 1981 Kettering
Open ; Rd 5 .

1 e4 c6 2 Nc3 d5 3 Nf3 de: 4 Ne4: Nf6 5 Nf6:+
gf: 6 d4 Bg4 7 Be2 Qc7
8 Be3 e6 9 Qd2 Nd7 10
000 000 11 Bf4 Bd6 12
Bd6: Qd6: 13 h3 Bf5 14
Rhf1 Bg6 15 Nh4 f5 16
Bf3 Nf6 17 Ng6: hg:

(MJB adds : SCOOP!! Black's

kingside pawn structure makes a pretty pattern.
Black has the edge around move 18, because white's bishop has little scope and black can put pressure on white's d pawn. White makes matters worse by over pressing (because he's white) and his d pawn is weaker after c4 & c5)

18 Qa5 Kb8 19 Rd3 Qc7
20 Qa4 Rd6 21 c4 Rhd8
22 c5 R6d7 23 Ra3 a6
24 Rb3 Rd4: 25 Qa6:
Ne4 26 Qb6 Nd2 27 Re1
Nb3:+ 28 Qb3: Qf4+ 29
Kb1 Qd2 30 Rd1 Qd1:+
31 Resigns

GOOD NEWS

AUDIO CHESS CASSETTES are now more valuable than ever!
The average C90 now costs £3.75, a full 40p more than previously.

Write to Audio Chess, 7
Billockby Close, Chessington, Surrey, KT9 2ED for the new catalogue, enclosing SAE.

The Chess Centre

3 Harcourt Street, London W1
01-402-5393

Why not visit us, in the near future, the only chess shop in London. We have full range of chess books, standard sets, fancy sets, chess cassets and computers too!

We are here