

AUDIO CHESS

n e w d

4

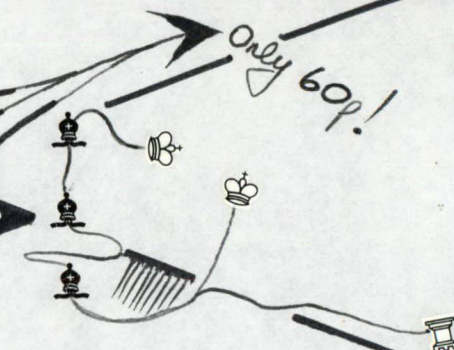

Imperceptibly, step by step, we had been bumping down the international league tables. We had become the Britain of Graffiti-strewn tower blocks and vandalised telephone boxes, of curled-edge sandwiches and tea slopped in the saucer by slatterns in dirty overalls.

MICHAEL BASMAN PRESENTS :

Issue Four of :

«AUDIO CHESS NEWZ»

Editor : James Pratt

Noticeboard

Welcome to another issue.

Would A/C cassettes in German interest you ? If so, write and tell us which ones you would like to hear.

You will have to forgive us if we edit your letters, it is sometimes necessary.

Here are the most popular cassettes of 1981 (1980 places in brackets) : 1 Eng Def for the 80's (-); 2 Repertoire for the d4/c4 Player (-); 3 Centre Counter (-); 4 R+P Endings (2); 5 French Tarrasch (-); 6 Budapest (-); 7 QB Attack (-); 8 Agg Caro (5). Will Keene's new 'King's Fianchetto' tape take a place in '82 and what has happened to St George's, first in 1980 ?

Why not turn up at the 'Rabbits Review' Rally on 3rd & 4th July in Catford ? The full range of cassettes will be on sale + meet MJB ! Write for details.

ACN - The mag for chess (nuts) and skewers is published 6 times a year at only £3.50 per annum or 60p for single issues (stamps accepted.) Advertising rates on request.

ACN, 7 Billockby Close, Chessington, Surrey, KT9 2ED.

answered by either 21 .. fg: 22 Qg6:+ Kd8 23 Qf6+ Kc7 or by 21 .. Rg8)

The rest is for instruction :

22 f5 Qe5: 23 fe: de: 24 Rael Qb2 25 Re2 Qb3: 26 Qe6: Rc7 28 Qe8 mate (Serves you right)

And now our old friend OH Hardy presents :

A WRINKLE IN THE ENGLISH DEFENCE

After 1 d4 e6 2 c4 b6 3 e4 Bb7 4 Nc3 4 .. Bb4 5 Bd3 f5, white can of course play 6 f3 at once, without shifting his Queen to e2 or h5.

Now, on tape the dangers for black if he tries to capture the central 'e' pawn (6 .. fe: 7 fe: Bc3:+ 8 bc: Be4:?) were explained, as 9 Qh5+ and white is winning. So, what is black's correct plan ?

I originally thought 6 .. Qh4+ 7 g3 Qh5 etc, should be OK but what about 6 .. Qf6 instead ?

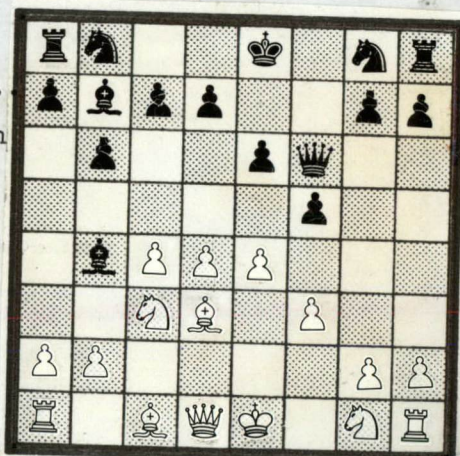

(-->)

Study this position

a) Black can immediately threaten the 'd' pawn, which white must attend to (7 ef? Bc3:+ 8 bc: ef: looks very innocuous)

b) However, if white plays a routine move such as 7 Bc2? or 7 Be3? or 7 a3? he loses his 'e' pawn after all ! (7 Be3 fe:

8 fe: Bc3:+ 9 bc: Be4:! 10 Be4: Qh4+!)

YET ANOTHER SWINDLE

By D Cooper (of course!)

I can not resist giving you this game from last year's U-180 at Rugby. This was not so much a swindle as daylight robbery; some interest may lie in the opening.

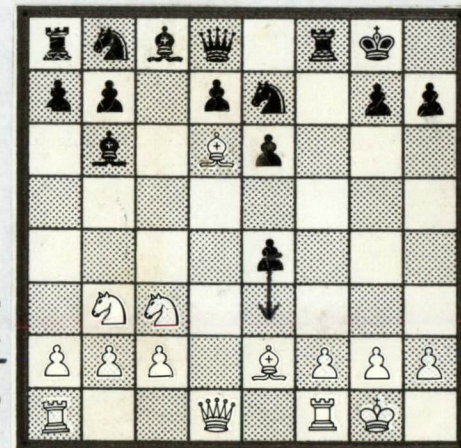

W : DM Cooper

B : AL Charity (168)

Sicilian Defence with 4 .. Bc5 (Notes by the winner for ACN)

1 e4 c5 2 Nf3 e6 3 d4 cd: 4 Nd4: Bc5 (' Oh, hell. Wish I knew something about this line.') 5 Nb3 (If 5 Be3 Qb6 6 b4!? is the Upham Gambit; cf BCM Nov '76 - JP) 5 .. Bb6 6 Nc3 Ne7 7 Be2 QO 8 Bf4 (It looked good, bearing down on d6) 8 .. f5 (I did not like 9 ef: because of the eventual pressure on f2; so I settled for ' occupation of weaknesses ') 9 QO fe: 10 Bd6 (Then came the move I'd forgotten.) (-->)

10 .. e3 11 fe: Be3:+ 12 Kh1 Rf1:+ 13 Qf1: Nf5 (I realised that I could not claim any lasting compensation) 14 Ne4 (I'd taken 25 minutes up to this point : he, only 9) 14 .. Nc6 (Here he dashed off to talk to a friend. Relying on this factor, I thought, 'Wonder if he'd fall for Bc4 ?) 15 Bc4 (Now after .. Nd6:, Nd6:, Qf8 etc perhaps followed by ..a6 & b5 white has nothing but a boring ending to suffer; but he strode back and played the 'hyper-aggressive'..) 15 .. Qh4??

(Obviously wanting to knock me off the board. I even thought I'd overlooked something at first, but ..) 16 Qf5: and he played on until move twenty. He was the highest graded player
I had beaten at the time.

ACN IV

From Switzerland we present :

THE ENGLISH DEFENCE with 4 e3
by E García

W : G Martinovich

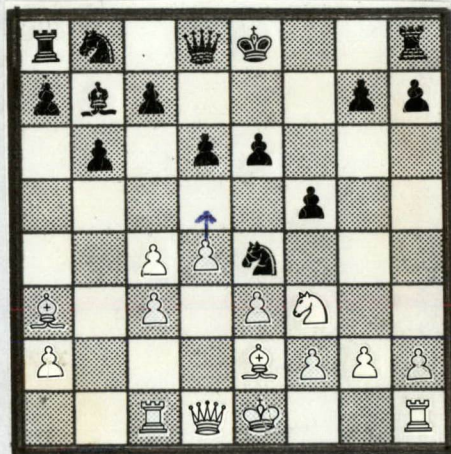

B : E García

English Defence (Played in Niza) (Notes by MJB)

1 d4 e6 2 c4 b6 3 Nf3 Bb7 4 e3 f5 5
Be2 Bb4+ 6 Nc3 Bc3:+! 7 bc: Nf6 8 Ba3 Ne4!
9 Rc1 d6 (-->)

(Black has good control of the central diagonal and the white bishop at a3 has not good scope, blocked by the pawn at d6) 10 d5 (This only temporarily blocks the bishop at b7 - which has alternative routes at a6 & c8.
But white harms his position in making his 'c' pawn more vulnerable.)

10 .. e5 11 Bd3 (This is more problematical. I don't like

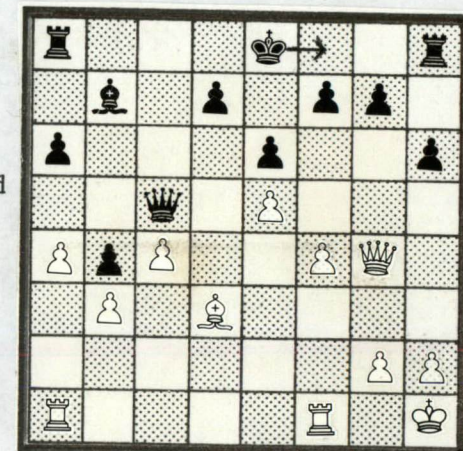

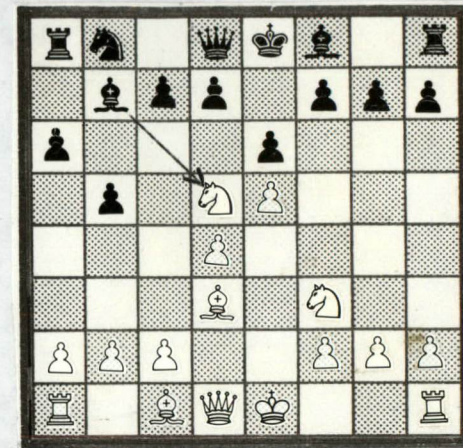

(-->)

7 .. Bd5: 8 c3 c5 9 00
9 .. h6 (Quite a good preventative move against Ng5 etc) 10 a4 (This is also problematical. 10 .. c4 is quite adequate, followed by .. Nc6 & Be7. After 10 .. b4 white gets to reconquer d5, but he cannot push on further with Pd5, as he has not enough control; and black is thus able to liquidate at d4 and keep a good position)

10 .. b4 11 c4 Bb7 12 Be3 cd: 13 Nd4: Qc7
(Thematically aiming at the advanced 'e' pawn)
14 f4 Nc6 15 Nb3 Na5 16 Na5: Qa5: 17 Kh1
17 .. Rc8 18 b3 Bc5 19 Bc5: Qc5: 20 Qg4
(-->)

20 .. Kf8?? (Moves like this show why JD Pratt is still editor of "Audio Chess News" and not an international player of repute. No idea of positional priorities. Of course, black must white from opening with f5 and of course he could play 20 .. g6 with a perfectly playable position.
20 .. Kf8 is suicide. Note after 20 .. g6 21 Bg6: is

There should definitely be a sequel, maybe with a bit more artwork.

7 Nd5: (Now white exchanges a badly placed knight, but black still controls d5)

1 c4 g5 2 g3 d6 3 Bg2 Bg7 4 Nc3 Nc6
5 d3 h6 6 Nf3 e5 (Trying to expand in the centre, as in Basman v Joksis, Biel International '79) 7 a3
8 Nd5 Nf6 9 Nf6:++? Of6: 10 Bd2 (→)

10 .. e4! 11 Bc3 ef:
 12 Bf6: fg: 13 Rg1 Bf6:
 14 Qd2 Nd4 15 Rb1 Kf7
 16 Rg2: Re8 17 Kf1 f4
 18 g4 a5 19 f3 a4
 20 Kg1 b6 (Instead of winning a long endgame after 20 ..
 Re2: 21 Qe2: etc, I decided to strangle him further)

21 Re1 Re3 22 Rf2 Bb7 23 Qd1 Bc6 24 Kf1
 24 ..Rae8 (-->)
 25 h3 Nf3: 26 Rf3: Bf3:
 27 Qa4: Be2:+ 0-1.

And now from Round Two, when I drew with a 2400+ player Fred Van der Vliet

W : G Welling

B : F Van der Vliet

Sicilian Defence (White Opening, by Transposition, as often happens)

1 e4 c5 2 Nf3 d6 3 c3 (He wrote a book about the Najdorf, Polugajevski Variation so no 3 d4) 3 .. Nf6 4 Be2!
Nbd7 (I had never seen this move before. What do you think of it ?) 5 d3 e5 6 00 Be7 7 Nbd2 00 8 a4 b6
 9 Nc4 a6 10 Nh4!? g6 11 Bh6 Re8 12 Ne3 Kh8
 13 Bg5 h6 14 Bf6: Nf6: 15 g3 Ra7 16 Nhg2 d5 17 ed: Nd5: 18 Nd5: Qd5: 19 Ne3 Qd8 20
Bf3 Bf8 21 Bd5 f5 22 Qb3 Kg7 23 Rfe1 Ree7

James Pratt reports :

BOOK

REVUE

" The Monster Book of Audio Chess " (Second Edition). Pages
 30 cm x 21 cm. Mix of notations. No index or contents list.
 Attractive card cover. A/C £4.50. Edited by MJB.

This is the 'Daddy of Audio Chess News', a spiral bound, large collection of coloured sheets - and if you enjoy the tapes and A/C News then you will want this, the largest Audio Chess publication yet.

Here is what to expect :

' What is Audio Chess ?', a list of cassettes, a note on the recording quality (12 pages).

Section 1 : Basman Sicilians (16 pages);

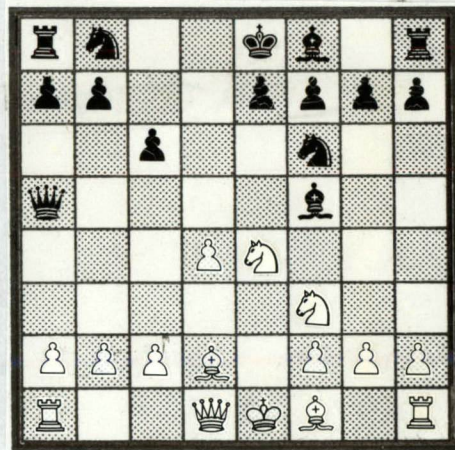

Section 2 : St Geo's (25 pages)

Section 3 : 'Various' : Strongpoint (12) - even 1 b3 e5
 2 Bb2 Qe7 3 e4 f5! (Garwood v Basman); Def to 1 d4(1), Eng Def(5), Closed Sic(2), New Caro(2); even 1 h4 (by René Olthof) and a page on Pickett's refuted Alekhine line with 5 e6?.

Section 4 : 'Hopscotch'; Readers' letters(15) and some games with a few analytical questions.

All of this is entertaining, but I have a few moans. Odd spelling mistakes; 'Bracknall' maybe forgivable, but are 'Nimzovitz' and 'Talbut'? Some openings are unrepresented, eg

Mr ES Warner from Penlan adds : ' My play has improved 25% since purchasing some of your cassettes. '

24 Rad1 Kh7 25 Bg2 Be6 (A time scramble approaching !) 26 Nc4 Bc4: 27 dc: Rd7 28 Rd7:+ Rd7:
29 Bd5 Bg7 30 Qc2 a5 31 Qb1 Rd6 (-->)
32 b4! ? e4 33 Qb3 Qf6
34 bc:! bc:! 35 Rb1:! h5!
36 Qb5 Qc3: 37 Qc5: Rd8 38 Qe7 Qd3! 39 Rb7 (What else ?) Qd1+ 40 Kg2 Qf3+ Draw agreed.

" The Wild Spike " by M Orr

W : MJL Orr B : CJ Morrison (E Univ v Edinburgh I, '81)

Notes by MJB

1 g4 (The meanies at BCM published two Basman losses on one page; 484 in the November '81 ish, to wit ! Both Spikes)
1 .. d6 2 h3 e5 3 Bg2 Nc6 4 b4!?? (Black laughed at this point - MO) (White plays a sort of wing gambit, sacrificing a flank pawn to gain time to advance quickly in the centre. His pawn comes to d5 and drives back the black knight at b6) 4 .. Nb4: 5 c3 Nc6 6 d4 Nge7 7 Nf3 Neg6 8 d5 Nb8 9 c4 Be7
10 Nc3 Nd7 (As black is cramped this does not look correct; better to exchange pieces by 10 .. Nh4) (-->)

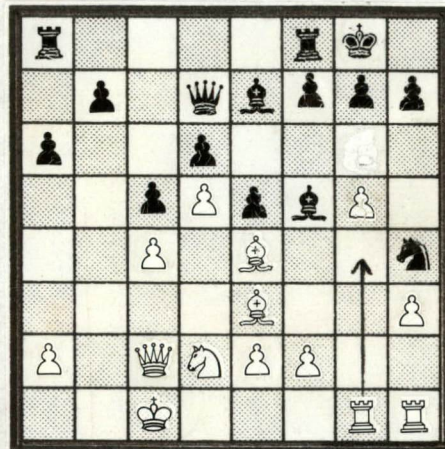

11 Be3 Nf6 12 Qc2 00
 13 000 (This looks deadly dangerous because black can open the Queenside so easily; but can white do anything on the other wing ??)
 13 .. c5 14 Rdg1 a6 15 Nd2
 (A good positional move to hold both the e4 and c4 squares) 15 .. Nh4 (Why does black get diverted from the Queenside ? 15 .. b5 looks best, and if 16 h4, then 16 .. Ng4:) (-->)

16 g5 Bf5 17 Nce4 Ne4:

18 Be4: Qd7 (<--)

19 Re4! (A brilliant sacrifice just to get the pawns off the 'h' file . If 19 .. Bg4: then 20 Bh7:+ Kh8 21 hg: and the knight on h4 is in trouble) 19 .. Be4: 20 Ne4: Ng6 21 Rhg1 (At last white is ready to roll with the 'h' pawn, so black grabs some space before he gets suffocated) 21 .. f5! (In fact, Mr Orr's last move was an error, as now after 22 gf: Bf6: 23 h4 loses a pawn. Instead 21 f3 would have been more

Mr Dave Rogers was kind enough to drop us a line :

' I am delighted with the R Keene tapes, D4/C4 Repertoire. These have transformed my Queen pawn to Q4, QB4 as white. His instructional style based on deep structural insight is exceptionally clear and strong. I also like his disciplined habit of regressively replacing pieces one by one until the previous critical position with possible variations, is reached. This is easy to follow and helps recall from memory immensely. What a teacher ! '

Mr Mick O'Neill of Walthamstow, E17, enquired :

' I have listened to Otto Hardy's Budapest tape and consider it very good and will buy my library copy. After 1 d4 Nf6 2 c4 e5 3 de: Ng4 what if white plays the obvious reply 4 f4 (-->) ?

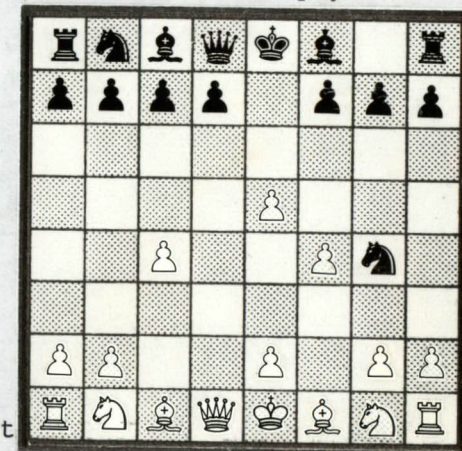

Now if 4 .. Bc5 then 5 Nh3.

Should black just try to smash white's pawn structure by 5 .. d6 or has he got a better way to exploit 4 f4 ? (MJB adds :

" After 5 Nh3 white has difficult

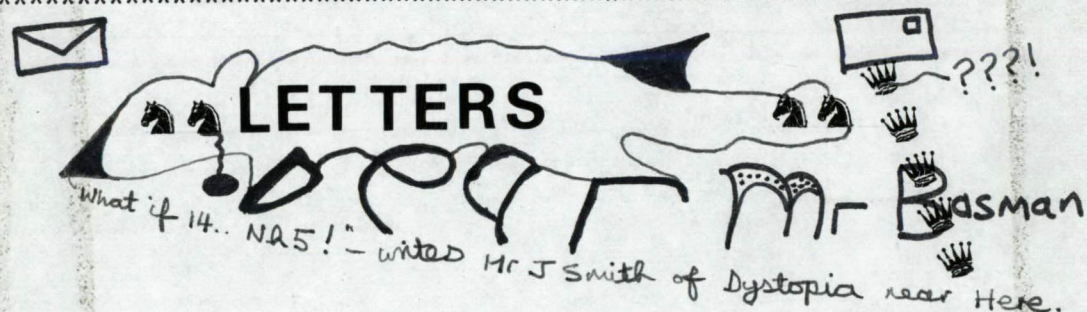

-ies due to his King's position in the middle. Black should aim for quick development, eg 5 .. d6 6 ed: 00 7 Nc3 Nc6 8 e4 cd: with further moves such as .. Re8 and .. Qa5. "

I enjoy playing the Centre Counter, however I have one query:

23 e4 Ne3 24 ed: Nd1: 25 Rd1: Re2: 26 Bd4
cd: 27 Ba7: Ra2: 28 Bb6 Rd6 29 Bf2 Ra5
30 Rc1 Rc6 31 Re1 h6 32 Re8+ Kh7 33 Rb8
Rb5 34 b4 Rb4: 35 Bd5: Rb1+ 36 Kg2 Rg6+
37 Kf3 Rf6+ 38 Ke3 Rb5 39 Be4+ g6 40 Be1
Rb3+ 41 Kd4 Rh3: 42 Rb7: Ra3 43 Bc3 Rf4 44
Bb2?? Ra4+ 0-1.

(Not a bad win for an eleven year old who had beaten Glen Flear in a simul the same day and who was over here on holiday from Australia. Remember the lad's name, Colin Davis.)

Mr AN Shepherd writes from Bridlington :

' I return your tapes on the French, Advance and Tarrasch. I wish to keep the booklets for the games. '

' I played the French for 6 years up to 1976 and can think of no better way of getting back into the opening than playing through the tapes, they appear even more useful than learning an opening from scratch, although I would have liked a bit more help on the Tarrasch, the monotonous wave of which, caused me to drop the French after the '74 K v K Match.)'

12 economical, since if .. f5 then 22 gf: Bf6: 23 h4 involves no material loss. But these surprise defensive moves are difficult to foresee) 22 gf: Bf6: 23 f3 b5 24 h4 (White can't dally any more and throws in his attack) 24 .. Bh4: (-->)

25 Rh1 Bf6

26 Bg5 Bg5:

27 Rg5: (Slightly puzzling, since 27 Ng5: threatens both h7 and the e6 square, and if .. Qf5 white can even play e4 followed by a Qh2 move later on) 27 .. Rf5 (Black finishes himself off in the time scramble tension)

28 Nc5:(!) Qf7 29 Rf5: 1-0 . An interesting game for the pawn-play on the Kingside to open lines for the attack. We might call this a real ' g4 Scandal '.

OTTO HARDY SPEAKS OUT..... !

Here is an example of what I would call a deficiency in the tape ' Plaskett on the Veresov ' :

1 d4 Nf6 2 Nc3 d5 3 Bg5 Nbd7 4 Nf3 h6
5 Bh4 e6 6 e4 g5 7 Bg3 Ne4: 8 Ne4: de:
9 Ne5 Ne5: 10 Be5: f6.

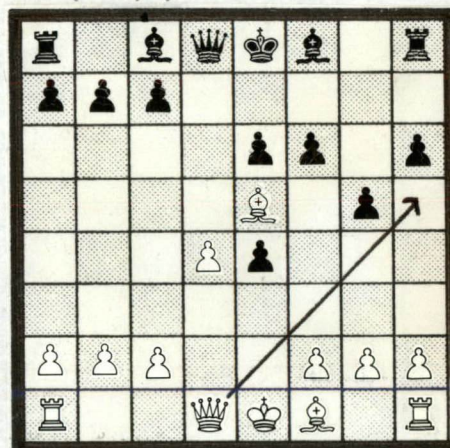

Now, Plaskett deals with this line in detail, thus encroaching on a specialist topic; but why on earth does he say nothing at all about the following:? He is a master, surely he can not have missed it ?? I did ! And it ruined a perfectly promising tournament for me, but I'm not a master and was tired. My 11 Bg3? was weak but ... (-->)

9

11 Qh5+ and if 11 .. Ke7 then 12 Qg6! is an exquisite piece sacrifice leaving black with a quite hopeless game.

By the way, I look forward to a tape on 1 g4 very soon ! I will be the first to buy that one. Here, for what its worth, is my first ever game with the Spike :

W : OH Hardy

B : M Wheeler (Aged 12 with a Barden grade of 175)

Played in the Leicester Open

1 g4 d5 2 Bg2 c6 3 h3 e5 4 c4? (4 d4! as in Basman v Barton, Manchester '80) 4 .. Be6?! 5 Qb3 Qd7 6 cd: Bd5: 7 Bd5: cd: 8 Nc3 d4?! 9 Ne4 Be7 10 Nf3(?) Nc6 11 d3 Nf6 12 Ng3!? g6? (To prevent Nf5, but what follows is worse) 13 Bb6 Rc8 14 00 Rg8 (White would have eventually played Bg7, winning a pawn) 15 Rfc1 Bd6 16 Bg5! Be7 17 Bf6: Bf6: 18 Ne4 Be7 19 Nc5 Bc5: 20 Rc5: Qe7 21 Ne5:! h5 22 Rac1 and 1-0 in 54, with a terrific struggle in the ending.

 A C N *****

W : L Howard (142)

B : ND Camp (91)

Played at Rochdale CC, November '81.

Borg Defence

1 e4 g5 2 d4 h6 3 Be3 Bg7 4 Nc3 c6
5 Qd2 d5 6 000? de: 7 Ne4: f5 8 Ng5: hg: 9 Bg5: Nf6 10 f3 Nbd7 11 Ne2 Qc7
12 Nf4 Nf8 13 Bc4 Bd7 14 Rhe1 Qd6 15 d5 c5 16 Ne6 Ne6: 17 de: Qd2:+ 18 Rd2: Bc6
19 h3 Rd8 20 Red1 Rd2: 21 Rd2: Bh6 22 Bh6: Rh6: 23 Kd1 Nh5 24 Bd5 Nf4 25 Bc6:+ bc:
26 Rd7 Re6: 27 Ra7: Ng2: 28 Ra4 c4? (I think this unsubtle trap was a crass error here, but both of us were short of time) 29 Kd2 Nf4 30 Rc4: Nh3: 31 a4 Kd7 32 a5 Kc7 33 b4 Kb7 34 Rd4 Rd6 35 Ke3 Rd4: 36 drawn.

W : MJ Basman

B : CJ Davis

10 Board Simul at the England v USSR Telex Match, April '82

Spike

1 g4?! d5 2 h3 e5 3 Bg2 c6 4 d4 Nd7
5 c4 Bb4+ 6 Nc3 Ne7 7 Qb3 ed: 8 Qb4: dc:
9 Qc3: 00 10 Nf3 Nf6 11 00 Be6 12 Rd1 Qc7 13 b3 Ne4 14 Qe3 Qb6 15 Nd4 Rad8 16 Bb2 Nd6 17 c5 Qc5: (Would you have played this, gentle reader? Switch off and study ...) 18 Nf5 Qe3: 19 Ne7:+ Kh8 20 fe: Rfe8 21 Nf5 Bf5: 22 gf: Nf5: